Re Root Damage.

In your letter you state 'The path to which you refer appears to be no longer in use'. This is not the path I referred to. My letter clearly states the path is the one that gives access to the Church from the gate on Salters Lane. This path is in constant use. It is a replacement path (new) which has to be redone due to deposits from root damage. The deposits has not at the gate area, but in proximity to the Robinia. The trees by the gate bear no comparison in size to the Robinia.

Size of the Tree.

This tree completely dominates the grounds and is well above the height of Salters Hall.

Re Structural Damage.
My letter states 'in conjunction with the trees'. The overwhelming quantity of leaves found in front of the house are from the Robinia.

Also, there is water coming up into the house in two cellars that have to be pumped out at the back of the property. The likelihood that water has attacked root petrification is very likely.

Yours sincerely, Anthony S. Wicks
